would be worth my time, and all praised Step One to Portland Booklet:

Everything a newcomer to Portland needs to move in. The Step One booklet describes six different lifestyles, weather statistics, school test scores, medical facilities, crime statistics and all the contact numbers you'll need to make Portland your new home.

"...The video is professionally produced and gives newcomers to the area a complete "picture" of the variety of lifestyles and amenities that are available to them if they choose to relocate to the Pacific Northwest." -- Peggy Scott, Vice President, Relocation Director, Windermere Relocation, Inc. "...gives newcomers to the area a complete 'picture' of the variety of lifestyles and amenities that are available to them..." -- Peggy Scott, Vice President, Relocation Director, Windermere Relocation, Inc. "The Step One booklet provides information needed for decision-making." -- Carole Gutierrez, Vice President, Portland Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce "The Step One to Portland video is of the same high quality as previous videos and would be very suitable to send to candidates who are considering moving to Portland. -- Nancy Bates, Manager, Corporate Resources, InFocus" "Your Step One program is the best marketing tool we can use in this industry. It's a city of roses and rivers. A city with water coming down from the sky and up from dozens of fountains. It's a town that will surround you with friendly people and breathtaking natural beauty. The kind of place that you can call home and feel good about it. Once you've experienced Portland, you'll understand why it's one of America's most livable cities, year after year. But you may need a little help to get started.
