Got study abroad on the brain? Curious as to what the experience is all about and how it can benefit your future? Take it from someone who has lived, volunteered and worked in study abroad for years. Not only will you get a first hand look at a students entire semester abroad, but youll also get an insiders glance at the step by step process in preparing to make it a reality, as well as how you can use the experience to your benefit once you return home. Along the way youll pick up over 100 tips dealing with foreign languages, cultures, travel, food, romance, music and the many nuances of a semester overseas. If youre ready, step inside and live out a semester in Valencia, Spain, before ever stepping foot off campus. Get ready for action and adventure, passion and dancing and the mystical energy known to the Spanish, as el Duende. Be warned though, you will study abroad after you finish this book!

About the AuthorMateo WarSteiner is from Lexington, Kentucky. In 2008, his senior year at the University of Kentucky, he studied abroad in Valencia, Espaa. There he fell in love with the country, culture and study abroad. Upon his return, he decided to begin chronicling the tales of his adventures abroad, based on the journal he kept while in Spain. It became quite evident from early on that this would be a useful guide to students that wished to study abroad and wanted to get a general idea of what to expect. In the summer of 2009, he moved to Harlem in New York City, where most of this book was written. After completing an internship at a music studio in Manhattan, he returned home to finish the book. After teaching English in Chile in 2011, he began working for a study abroad provider in Austin, TX in 2012. As a site specialist for Chile, Peru and Panama, he got to share his experience with students first hand. In 2013, he transferred back down to Chile to work with students onsite. Throughout these experience, he has accumulated a wealth of knowledge for future study abroad candidates. Beyond the world of writing, Mateo enjoys music, travel and staying active. Future plans involve further travels and explorations of our little world. He also plans to write more books and make more beautiful music. Oh, and he is still buscando el duende . . .
