I have found the book to be wonderful reading about the outdoor and not only the nature ...By Jack BI found out about this book through reading about the Ivorybilled woodpecker in other books....while I am not a Duck hunter..I did grow up in South Louisiana...I have found the book to be wonderful reading about the outdoor and not only the nature and animals that Fielding Lewis encountered but also the many colorful characters he encountered over the years...I thoroughly enjoyed the book and will no doubt read it again.2 of 2

There are some spelling and typo errors within the book which is why I gave it 4 out of 5 stars.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Southern LA Waterfowl hunter- a Reflection of days long agoBy JOE GUIDEVery good storyteller of growing up in southern LA

This collection of short stories-all personal experiences of the author-details the differences of hunting in Louisiana as opposed to other states. One can gain insight into the state, its wildlife, its different ways of duck hunting, and its landscape. There are humorous accounts of hunting dogs, character studies of hunters and woodsmen, and examples of good duck hunting.Find out the difference between a marsh and a swamp-there is one. Relive the sighting of the ivory-billed woodpecker-thought to be extinct. Most sportsmen will find that the various chapters provide them with pertinent information for the enjoyment of this outdoor sport.ABOUT THE AUTHORFielding Lewis's love of hunting began at the age of six when his grandmother gave him his first BB gun. He spent much of his teen years hunting and observing wildlife and nature with his father. After marrying and returning from the air force, he worked as a mill lumber inspector and plant operator. He purchased a lumberyard that he operated for thirteen years. After selling the lumberyard, he became the editor of a small weekly newspaper in Franklin, Louisiana. His ability to express himself in the written word blossomed into this, his first book, a result of ten years of note taking.
