We have discovered many interesting places and things about our state through the series on TV. On a visit to our local library we found this book. We enjoyed reading it so much we bought it. We have found that having this book has given us a hard copy of many of the places that Scott Mason reports about on the news and make it easy for us to find places to explore in our state. Many of the locations make for wonderful day trips for us. This book is well written, fun and entertaining to read. It is a must for North Carolinian's looking for place to see in North Carolina or anyone interested in North Carolina. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Mini-adventures across NC By Ankenoid We recently moved to NC and it was fun reading this book to help us plan weekend adventures. But it's more than that - it was fun to see how the stories were found and then pieced together. We've also gone on line to look at some of the video segments. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. EXCELLENT By James Jones This book is well written and the pictures are AWESOME. Scott is one of the best journalists in NC and in fact the country from where I'm standing. Our area's Moe Rocha. WORTH EVERY PENNY!!!!

A blend of oral history and memoir with a good dose of quirky humor, Tar Heel Traveler is a celebratory look at the people and places of North Carolina. WRAL-TV reporter Scott Mason the Tar Heel Traveler profiles colorful characters and out-of-the-way places, from a man without arms in Chapel Hill who chainsaws trees with his feet to a 101-year-old woman from Southern Pines whose homemade snake oil cures every ailment and from a Hyde County church moved by God to a Chatham County circle created by Satan; and a Jackson County rock carved by a giant..

From the Back Cover Celebrated veteran television reporter Scott Mason loves nothing more than being on the road in North Carolina. Which is why he almost bounced right out of his boss's office and skipped back to the newsroom a few years back when told, Would you like to be the Tar Heel Traveler . . . Do the stories you love to do. The state is your oyster.
