Its large and covers most of the mountains in Georgia, North Carolina, and Tennessee. The detail is not that great but that is a trade off when it comes to maps that cover large areas. Hopefully they will do an update and add all the state parks and wildlife management area camping locations. I am using it primarily for dispersed/remote/primitive camping. The fact that it is waterproof is a nice should the weather turn bad. In my opinion the price is a little high for the amount of detail but options are limited so this is about as good as it gets. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great maps although in general it's hard to read the ... By JCGreat maps although in general it's hard to read the topographic lines accurately. They are also heavy due to the size and material, but I was hiking in rain for 4 days, so I cannot complain. The maps did not tear or run when wet. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Map is nice summary of trails and topography of the area By Ben Berauer Map is nice summary of trails and topography of the area. Detail of map, and supplemental annotation, are both wanting.

Waterproof Tear-Resistant Topographic Map National Geographic's Trails Illustrated map of Tellico and Ocoee Rivers is designed to meet the needs of outdoor enthusiasts seeking to explore the southern section of Cherokee National Forest. Created in partnership with the U.S. Forest Service and others, this expertly researched map features key areas of interest including Cohutta, Joyce Kilmer Slickrock, Citico Creek and Bald River Gorge Wildernesses, Nantahala and Chattahoochee National Forests and Hiwassee River. The map's unmatched detail of the area includes activity guides for the different areas within Cherokee, Nantahala and Chattahoochee National Forests, so you can select a location to explore according to your area of interest. The map also delivers unparalleled trail information including trail guides listing hundreds of miles of trails in Cherokee National Forest, along with their mileage, level of difficulty, trail blaze and designated use. On the map, trails are colored according to their designated use. The map base includes contour lines and elevations for summits and many lakes. The map also highlights the large section of the Benton MacKaye Trail that runs through the area. With so many lakes and rivers in the area, there is an abundance of both land and water recreation activities, which are highlighted on the map, including areas for: fishing, camping, snorkeling, swimming, boating as well as points of interest, waterfall and wildlife viewing areas, scenic overlooks and ranger stations. The Ocoee and Cherohala Skyway scenic byways are also highlighted for those who wish to travel this are by car. Every Trails Illustrated map is printed on "Backcountry Tough" waterproof, tear-resistant paper. A full UTM grid is printed on the map to aid with GPS navigation.
