course, children don't always have the same plans in mind so I had to be flexible this book made it easy to do both. I took a family of 6 kids ranging from an infant to a 12 year old. We went to Disney in early June and feared the worst since Summer can be crazy busy there. We followed this book and to my surprise, had an awesome experience! I love that the book includes various options for park planning (1 day, 2 day, 3 day, etc). We even managed to go on my 4 year olds favorite ride (Splash Mountain) about 4 times IN A ROW before anyone else got in line!!! I love the added insights on places to eat, must-see shows, etc. My more timid riders who spent a lot of time NOT on rides, enjoyed looking for hidden Mickeys throughout the park. I love the book so much that I vow to buy one each time I go if there is a new edition (that includes Disney World). Looking forward to my next Disneyland adventure! By SuitedPair Let me start by saying that if you are a complete free spirit and don't want to set any sort of rigid schedule for yourself on vacation then you should not buy this book. Actually, you should not go to Disneyland either. The team that wrote this book have created another masterpiece. This book is full of practical advice, not just attraction reviews. Some might think the Touring Plans are too anal, but you have to be anal to make Disneyland or Disney World work at any time other than the emptiest parts of the year. You can wake up a little early and hit your entire days worth of attractions by noon, or you can slack it and not see an days worth of attractions in two days. They also understand the psychology of travelling with a family and have just a few incredibly valuable tips on important things to remember. My favorites (paraphrased): When you get back from your trip, there is a pretty good chance all your pre-school kids will talk about or remember is the pool at the hotel. So DONT STRESS every detail. Also: Disneyland is not the place to teach your kids every last lesson and make them follow every desired behavior. Johnny can eat his broccoli back home. Anyway - the authors' website and smartphone apps are also highly recommended. Will save you more time than you can imagine! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. It really helps you decide what is best for you and your family By RedMouse833 Don't do a Disney trip without it. The time savings are monumental. It really helps you decide what is best for you and your family. Everything from onsite to off site...where to eat....when to eat....how to use fast pass.....and little things like hidden wonders.

With nearly 13 million visitors, the original Disneyland Park still ranks as one of America's Top 25 Visited Sites according to Forbes Traveler. Disneyland Park and Disney's California Adventure continue a 1 billion dollar expansion with new attractions based on the successful Pixar films- new attractions already added to the park include Finding Nemo Submarine Voyage, Toy Story Mania, World of Color, and coming soon Goofy's Sky School and The Little Mermaid- Ariel's Undersea Adventure scheduled to debut in Spring 2011. In 2012, Disney's California Adventure is scheduled to continue with a 12 acre expansion adding a new land to the park based on the Pixar animated film, Cars.
