Raisin Didn't pay much for the guide so my expertation wasn't high. It will be helpful when we go to Gettysburg0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. outstanding-things i never knew about gettysburgBy Robert Hartmetzso many things to see and do beside just visiting the battlefield. made our trip much more enjoyable.gave us a better insight into what really took place during the battle. would hope that anybody going to gettysburg obtain a copy of this book.

Well, you did it! You spent the family vacation money on a trip to Gettysburg this year. Now what? Youve driven around a great big field full of monuments, the kids are complaining that they wanted to go to Disneyland, and youre wondering what you were thinking... Well, this book will provide you with some helpful hints from someone who has been through this scenario. With nearly three dozen trips to Gettysburg under his belt since 1941, the author gives you some ideas of what to see and do in one of the most charming and historic towns in America. Let us help you turn your trip into one of the most enjoyable vacations you will ever take, and help you learn a little something along the way. Join us on our journey to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, site of the greatest Civil War battle in history and the location of Abraham Lincolns greatest speech, and we will help you love every minute of it.

About the AuthorRobert Gerald Hartmetz was born in Rochester, New York on May 10, 1934, the oldest of two children. He graduated from East High School in 195? and achieved an Associates Degree from the Rochester Institute of Technology. In 1957, Robert was drafted into the United States Army and spent the next two years stationed at a Nike Missile Site at Ellsworth Air Force Base in South Dakota. Bob married Joan Burton in 1959 and they had two sons, one of whom is the CEO of Starry Night Publishing. Robert also worked for The Eastman Kodak Company for 36 years, retiring in 1991. He has spent more time sampling what Gettysburg has to offer, than most of the people who live there.
