The authors and publishers have updated the book to include additional buildings and monuments that have been added over the past decades since it was first published- and they do a remarkable job of staying current. I purchased this book as a gift for my 4 year old nephew- and he enjoyed it- it was an easy way to help prepare him for a visit to DC. It doesn't make for a great bed time story- but does prep a better understanding of our nation's capitol. I am reviewing this product in an effort to help other customers through relaying my experience with the product and providing any insight I garnered. Continuing the success of the runaway best sellers This is New York and This is London comes the latest title from M. Sasek's beloved and nostalgic children's travel series. Sasek's This is Washington, D.C. is a facsimile edition of his original book, which was first published in 1969. The brilliant illustrations have been meticulously preserved, with the facts updated for the twenty-first century. The charming illustrations, coupled with Sasek's playful narrative, makes for a perfect souvenir that will delight children and parents alike. Super-tourist Sasek paints Washington red, white, and blue as he tours the nations capital. Stops include the Washington Monument (which commands a view of all the Federal buildings and most of the museums, monuments, and memorials), the White House (whose lawn is a grassy launching pad for the Presidents helicopter), and the Smithsonian's National Zoological Park, the last residence of the world's most famous ursine, Smokey the Bear! With bright pictures and snappy commentary, Sasek wittily captures all the fascinating things to do and see in a city of green parks, wide avenues, and classic white porticoes. Designed by a Frenchman and renowned for its cherry blossoms, This is Washington, D.C.!

This is iconic. Another generation of children are enjoying Miroslav Sasek's classic This Is series of books. Using vibrant color and stylized drawing, Sasek captures the personality and flavor of each city or country in a way that appeals to both children and adults. ~ohdeedoh
