items to add to my luggage to improve our vacation. I'm looking forward to the cruise now and appreciate the advice. Happy sailing

Although I am an experienced cruiser, I enjoyed reading Debbie's ideas. I didn't always agree ( I pack a month in advance and then eliminate about half), I did learn some new things.

"I'll be going on my first cruise this July. Read several books on first time cruising, preparing for a cruise, packing for a cruise, etc., but not one had this much information. Entertaining, informative, and never, ever boring. Hard to find a book that's so jam-packed with information and yet made me smile--and sometimes actually laugh--as stories were presented showing why a particular hint was so important. I would recommend this book to anyone, whether it's their first cruise or not. Just sorry I did not read Deb Graham's book first!"
