Breaks up the trails into sections depending on where they are located at. So the sections include: Mendocino, Kings Range Sinkyone, Humboldt, Redwood National Park Vicinity, Prairie Creek, Del Norte Coast Redwoods, Jedediah Smith Redwoods. The book also has a trail legend for all the trails in the books, that has information on trail difficulty, length in miles, type of trail, whether its dayhiking, or for backpacking, terrain, what features you might see, and if trail is kid friendly, to name a few. All in all I'd recommend for trip planning, another great resource is an app called All trails0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. love the descriptions and tips - managed a few of ...By Customerlove the descriptions and tips - managed a few of the trails on our recent redwoods trip, but did notice that there were a lot of park trails that were NOT listed in the book when we were in the area.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. At last there is a definitive guidebook for the magnificent and beautifully mysterious hikers' paradise known as the Redwood Coast of Northern California. In this new title in the Top Trails series, veteran outdoors author Mike White leads day-trippers and backpackers into some of the most awe-inspiring terrain on earth. Step-by-step in his trail-worn boots, the author created a menu of 57 diverse routes, from a gentle half-mile morning loop to a 29-mile backpacking adventure. Winding through Mendocino, Humboldt, and Del Norte counties, he guides readers into this landscape of lush, old-growth redwoods; picture-postcard vistas to Pacific Ocean sea stacks; winding descents to undisturbed beaches and mesmerizing tide-pool life; pathways to inland canyons; and untamed wilderness shy on humans but boisterous with herds of Roosevelt elk. For readers ready to hit the trail, this is the can't-do-without guide and for armchair travelers, it's 57 journeys into wonderland.

About the AuthorMike White grew up in Portland, OR, where his adventures in the Cascade Range spawned his interest in the outdoors.
